hi, Damian:

I checked with the forwarder you recommended, they can't do it either. Only option now is to get this material waived, contact the attorney and find a way to get this material out in a legal/formal way.

I have sent email out asking for the contact info but I have not received any answer yet. If you could, pls let me know how to contact the attorney and I will follow up.

Thanks and Regards,
Michael Zhao

Hi Michael,
Can you provide status on getting this resin moved out of China? Anything we can do to help?

Thanks,
Damian

I remember it is about $500 per month, something like that. We will pay through a PO, the way we purchased the material. BSC China pays first, then cross charge to you.

I will confirm the details with distributor once I get back to China in mid of Jan. I am on vacation these 2 weeks.

Regards,
Michael

Mike, what is charge and how are we paying?

I would like to get this formalized as it make take a while to have material moved.

Thks

Charlie

hi, Damian:

yes, it is in a safe storage now, the distributor moved the 15 tons into this place last month since it is safer, better controlled and it could be a long term storage. Yes, we are being charged for this storage.

pls let me know how to contact the lawyer, need to find out how to go through the official way, get it legalized.

Regards,

Michael

Hi Michael,

We have just discussed this in Charlie's weekly meeting – do you have any update on getting this moved? Are we OK with current storage location until we get resin moved? Are we being charged for storage?

Thanks,

Damian

Hi, guys:

K+N just told me that they can't provide this service, they can't make sure a smooth transportation thru the custom without being inspected either.

We now have to look at the initial proposal to discuss with the lawyer, pay extra tax if needed and transport it formally.

Pls let me know the contact info of the lawyer and I will follow up.

Best Regards,

Michael Zhao

Hi, guys:

Can I get the detailed delivery address for both Belgium and Indianapolis? The forwarder needs that for shipment quote.

Thanks,

Ann,

We are still checking with legal and additional Freight Forwarders. We hope to resolve soon but are moving cautiously to do it right.

Michael/George-

Any updates?

I just went through the photo's again and based upon our due diligence, here in the states and in China, I believe this is the right material. It may have not been imported through proper channels or redistributed enough times, the original paperwork has been lost/forgotten along the way, but I think the agreed to approach on offering to pay the import tax to be able to export it was sound.

Just curious as to where we are.
